

Ontario Register of Future Voters

---

What is the Ontario Register of Future Voters?

The Ontario Register of Future Voters is a list of eligible future voters who are currently 16 or 17 years old. If you are on this list, your information will automatically be transferred to the Voters List when you turn 18 and you will be ready to vote in your first provincial election.

To be eligible for the Ontario Register of Future Voters, you must be:

- 16 or 17 years old; and
- a Canadian citizen; and
- a resident of Ontario.

---

Why should I be on the Ontario Register of Future Voters?

Adding yourself to the Ontario Register of Future Voters means your information will be automatically transferred to the Voters List when you turn 18. When the next election is called, you will receive a Voter Information Card telling you when and where to vote. Having a Voter Information Card also means you'll be able to get to vote faster and more efficiently.

Young voters between the ages of 18-24 are an important elector group in Ontario. Joining the Ontario Register of Future Voters is a way for you to demonstrate your commitment to active citizenship and intent to participate in Ontario's democratic process.

---

How do I add myself to the Ontario Register of Future Voters?

Adding yourself to the Ontario Register of Future Voters is easy. Just go to elections.on.ca and use our online e-Registration tool to add your information. You will need one piece of identification that shows your name and residential address.

---

What do I need to do when I turn 18?

Nothing—once you have added yourself to the Ontario Register of Future Voters, you will automatically be transferred to the Voters List when you turn 18. The next time an election is called, you will receive a Voter Information Card letting you know when and where to vote.

---

What does Elections Ontario do with my personal information?

The information we collect for the Ontario Register of Future Voters is used for election purposes only. Your personal information is stored securely and will not be shared with any third parties.