

The next election is yours!

With voting comes the power to make decisions about yourself, your community, and your future.

Get vote-ready and register today.

eregistration.elections.on.ca

What is the Ontario Register of Future Voters (ORFV)?

This is a list of eligible future voters who are currently 16 or 17 years old. If you're on this list, you will automatically be added to the voters list when you turn 18, meaning you will be ready to vote as soon as the next election is called.

Who is eligible to register?

To be eligible for the Ontario Register of Future Voters, you must be:

- 16 or 17 years old; and
- a Canadian citizen; and
- a resident of Ontario.

Why should I be on the Ontario Register of Future Voters?

This list was created to make your voting experience easier, faster and more efficient. When the next election is called, you will receive a voter information card telling you when and where to vote.

How do I get on the list?

Just go to elections.on.ca and use our online tool to register. All you need is one piece of identification that shows your name and residential address.

What does Elections Ontario do with my personal information?

The information we collect for the Ontario Register of Future Voters is used for election purposes only.

Why should I vote?

Voting is your right as a Canadian citizen. By voting in the provincial elections, you show your commitment to active citizenship and intent to participate in Ontario's democracy. You have the power to shape your future.

What if I'm a new Canadian on the path to citizenship?

There are lots of ways to get involved in Ontario's elections. For starters, you can volunteer on a campaign, work for Elections Ontario during an election, and host ORFV drives in your school or community.